Volume 24 of The Proceedings of the Virgil Society was edited by Jonathan Foster, Honorary Senior Fellow in Classics, University of Liverpool.

The lectures printed in the present issue of the Proceedings do not represent a complete record of what the Society has heard between 1998 and 2000: some of the lectures have been otherwise or elsewhere published.

The Editor expresses his warmest thanks to members of his family for their help and technical expertise generously afforded him during the preparation of this volume. The Society sends grateful good wishes to its master compositor, Ernest Buckley, who has now retired.
